Royal Insurance Company.

FIRE and LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This popular Company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present day, has extended an agency in this city. The local offices are in Calle San Martin, opposite the Bolsa, Buildings, Rooms, Counting-house, Store, &c., &c., can be insured at the lowest rates.

The ROYAL is remarkable for the promptitude and liberality of its settlements: for the largest fire insured (47 per cent per annum) ever continuously declared during 15 years by one of the numerous estates of it's assured, realized the noble sum of £97 000 in one life assurance for £30,000, effected in the Company's Life Department, in 1852, which ship, with the crew of 24 persons (such as the Royal), for the accumulated funds in hand, over and above the sum insured, £67,000 was paid to the assured without quibble, and for the correct calculation of its premiums, the Royal has the unqualified testimony of the most eminent living actuary, spoken in the highest terms of this Company.

The Directors are desirous of extending the sale of the Co. amounting to £60,000 a-year and such liberal proposals as "the assured" could desire, have been offered. The increase during 11 years on the Life business was 100 per cent, and on the Fire 50 per cent.

Messrs. H. A. GILBERT and Co. are prepared to issue policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount, at the lowest premiums, for, being wholly unconnected with the sales business, which already shows an annual revenue of £1,200,000 sterling, they are free from all competition.

Youthful Errors.

How many persons suffer from the indiscretion of hasbands, which results in bad legs, swellings, bad sores, ulcerated throats, and sore eyes. Many a life is ruined by the use of mercury, when a few boxes of Holloway's Pills would have restored health and vigour to the whole system. No ordinary medicine can pass a single particle of mercury into the circulation without destruction. Children often have sores, and bad heads, which are the result of the parents' indiscretion, and which Holloway's Ointment will cure, when all the usual remedies of doctors have proved to be purifying and healing properties of this Ointment are so great that it is impossible to name a disease which it will not relieve. Holloway's Pills should be used according to the directions in order to remove irritation, inflammation, or fever.

DROPSY.

This fearful disease only arises in consequence between the Skin and the internal parts, and Holloway's Ointment and Pills will remove the cause, and restore the liver and stomach to healthy action, when all the skin of the body will become clear, and the system will regain its natural strength. Many hundreds have been saved from the grave by the use of this celebrated remedy, after all other means had failed.

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, Diphtheria, and Bronchitis.

Any of the above complaints, however severe, should yield if the Ointment be well rubs effectually rubbed into the neck and chest twice a day, and the Pills taken occasionally according with a few grains with the preparations of the treatment of Holloway's Pills and Ointment. Many of the most dangerous diseases of the throat and chest have been cured by this treatment, after the usual remedies had been tried without success. Holloway's Pills should be used according to the directions in order to remove irritation, inflammation, or fever.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1864.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The city is again plunged in mud. Yesterday it was impossible for ladies to walk in the streets. The project for cleaning the sidewalks, which was sent in to the Municipality, has been thrown out, the Committee reporting that so long as the female citizens use miniskirtiques, no such project is necessary.

On Sunday there was another meeting of the Circulo Literario, and a rather stormy discussion ensued as to the duties of the porter, and the right of members to send him with messages. Mr. Varela of the 'Tribuna,' and Mr. Williams, of the 'River Plate Magazine,' intended and altered the same suggestions. We hear that Mr. Rams, of the Boles, will give some lectures on political economy.

The news from Montevideo is that Flores and Moreno have at last had a fight—neither party beaten — Flores ran away, at least so the Montevidean papers say. No killed or wounded. President Aguirre had at last returned to Montevideo, and the belief is that terms will be finally concluded.

We regret to record the murder of another milkman, in the Plaza Once de Setiembre. The murdered man had only 30 dollars about him, of which he was robbed. The assassin, as usual, got away.

A gentleman returning from the opera last Friday night had a very narrow escape from the knife of some drunken villain in Calle Artes. The police are getting worse and worse each day.

The new station which the Western Railway is building in the Plaza Once de Setiembre will be the most splendid thing in town. It will occupy a whole square and will be finished on English style. This station will be the head office of the Company. A splendid new car has come out for the use of the President and Government. It will be put on the line on opening of the road to Mercedes. The road will shortly be finished to Mercedes, as the rails are being laid and the earthworks finished, but the people in Mercedes have not the remotest idea where the station is to be, and indeed the greatest speculation is going on as to the future site.

A new English café or restaurant has been opened in Calle Piedad, No. 117. The proprietor solicits English patronage.

Two little children were lost on Saturday, one a boy about four years, Vicentito, the other a girl, Maria, aged six years. Any of our readers knowing anything about these children, will please notify the parents at 108, Bulpacha.

The Chamber of Deputies, we hear has abolished flogging in the army. We hope that all the good which has been prophesied by the friends of this measure, will be realised; but we regret sincerely to say, that the moral condition of the Argentine army is not such as to justify any great leniency towards the soldiers.

Mr. Lanus has published another important letter on the subject of the paper dollar. He comes out in his usual strong way. We will publish it to-morrow.

The steamer from the Uruguay arrived, but brought no news of importance. Entre Rios everything was quiet, and on the Montevideo shore the rebels had all left that district.

We are requested to direct the attention of the Committee of the 'Boles' to the disgraceful state of the Waterclosets. A reform is urgently required, and certainly no credit can be given to the architects for such a miserable production.

THE CALVETE LIBEL.

There seems to be but one opinion respecting the disgraceful letter of Major Calvete. Indeed, it is difficult to imagine how the editor in question could forget the dignity of the press, and to allow the publication of such threats as to horsewhip the crooked eyed scamp, especially since the editor of the 'Pueblo' is a member of Congress with the aggrieved party.

The matter has caused considerable noise, and occupied the attention of the National Senate for some time. It is not yet concluded, and our legislators are diverted from more serious subjects, to decide a question of punctilio. The debate on Saturday brought out some brilliant orations from the Prime Minister and Senator Frias, the former declaring that the offence in question could not be passed by unnoticed in the land, and the latter rightly insisting on some method of punishment.

In our idea nothing is simpler than for President Mitre to cashier the military bully, without any foolish formalities; or for Congress to summon him to the bar of the House, and compel him to make an apology on his knees or go to prison till the close of the session in December. It is only a matter of a few minutes, as it does here weeks, to settle the matter. The Committee of the Senate, however, thought fit to throw out the bill for Calvete's expulsion, and when we remember that the Senator aggrieved is proprietor of a paper (El Nacional) which has been at times very troublesome it is easy to understand why Sor Piñero finds little sympathy.

Nevertheless, the dignity of Congress should be vindicated, irrespective of Sor Piñero and his paper, and the Ministers plead "the liberty of the Press," forgetful that Sor Calvete and his friends have not indeed made a very serious injury on our prerogative, and that our real interests demand a severe chastisement for such an outrage on public decency.

NEWS FROM PERU.

The couriers have at length succeeded in crossing the Andes, and the last Valparaiso papers from Valparaiso of June 29th, with news from Peru three weeks later than via England. The Peruvians, after their patriotic attempts to poison the Spanish Minister on board the packet, and assassinate him at Panama, anticipated the vengeance of Admiral Pareja, and Callao, the city of great alarm. The Government of Peru has not made the least step towards grappling with the invaders, and the only feeble symptom is the arrival of 100 Chilian volunteers at Callao. Most absurd stories are circulated about Pinzon's forces being attacked with scurvy, and their not being able to use of rifles. The Spanish vessels find no difficulty in procuring provisions all along the Peruvian coast, and the Spanish crews at present hardly make 1,000 men, the Peruvians take good care not to come within cannon-shot.

The Government of Ecuador refuses all complicity with the heroes of Talumbo, but offers its friendly offices to reconcile it with the offended Spanish nation. In Bolivia and Chile the Armed Guards have been called out for active service, it is not clear however whether it is to defend the guano islands of Peru or to declare war with Chile for those of Mejillones. The republic of Chile is the only one determined to make common cause with Peru, but if there be any intention to fight the Spaniards, 100 volunteers will be a poor assistance. The Chilian Minister at Panama has written to the Governor, accusing him and the police authorities of complicity in the affair of the three Spaniards murder Snr. Mazarredo, and there exciting the vengeance of the Imperial Government for so flagrant a violation of all law and Christianity.

ROBBERIES AND OUTRAGES.

1. A Frenchman named Auguste Galou was robbed of his gold watch and chain on Thursday evening at Plaza Lorea.

2. On Tuesday night some thieves contrived to carry off a trozio of 'yerba' in a carpenter's cart at the corner of Temple and Corrientes.

3. Two foreigners (one of them a Frenchman), were coming from Bolgra on on Friday evening, when two thieves attacked them, taking the Frenchman's watch. The latter, however, seized the robber and beat him severely, whereupon an English neighbour ran out of his house to see what was the matter. The native said "let me go, and I'll give you the watch." A crowd assembled, and the Frenchman, getting alarmed, ran off. The Englishman asked three 'tenientes alcaldes' to seize the native, who promised to accompany them, but they refused. At length one Pablo took him to the Commissary, who at once ordered both robbers to be liber ated.

4. A tinsmith was attacked last week, after dark, near Isola de Oro, by two men, but he floored them with some opportune brick-bats, and escaped.

5. We learn that an Irishman recently lost a native in a quarrel at a pulperia near Fortin de Areco. The native is not dead; the other has abandoned his sheep and 'cleared out.'

6. Antonio Ortiguera, taken up for swindling, and going under a variety of aliases.

7. Two natives were taken up on Thursday for fighting with knives.

8. D. Santiago Calzadilla and his wife were attacked by some ruffians in a carriage, who struck them in the face with a stick; they were fortunately captured.

THEATRICAL VIGATO.

MADAME BRIOL'S BENEFIT.

Our opera-house has never appeared to greater advantage than on Tuesday night. In spite of the weather, the house was very full, and the boxes presented a gala display of beauty and fashion. Norma was well played and sung, and the applause and enthusiasm which followed every scene inspired Madame Briol with unprecedented talent and power. On former occasions she divided the palm with her charming rival Mdlle. Ida, now she bore it off unquestioned and undisputed. Yet the others could not have been excelled in Adelgisa, and the performance on the whole was one to be most interested in for a long time. In fact some Englishmen recently arrived were quite surprised, no less at the brilliant spectacle of the audience, than the superior rendering of this fine opera.

After the first act Madame Briol sang the waltz said to be composed for her by Sig. Nannetti, but the music singing was much superior to the composition, which was only a parody on the Baccio. It was, however, encored, and Signor Nannetti called on the stage to receive a public acknowledgment. After the third act, the fair artiste came forward and received the loud cry of "Viva la Rose of Summer" in English with such exquisite taste that it received an enthusiastic encore. The Ministers we prefer her rendering of it in Italian, not from her foreign accent, but because Tuscan is really softer than English.

The concert of Friday night was the grandest ever seen in Buenos Ayres, and much more practical than the noisy Peruvian meetings. Besides a number of handsome wreaths and bouquets, the following valuable presents were given to Mme. Briol.

1. A gold medal weighing eight ounces, with the legend: "A Madame Carolina Briol, by her friends and admirers in Buenos Ayres, 27th July 1864."

2. Accompanying the above, a splendid mother-of pearl Album, with the centre-de-vsite of the following donors: Rosalino Rosa, Hungo, G. Marmol, Cobo, Temperley, Saguier, Castro, Dellavia, Taliaferro, Wilde, Elizalde, Segui, Garcia, Seneva, Llevalol, White, Torres, Saenz Valiente, Gorno, Campeaurogue, Mackinlay, Lafuente, Varela, Leslie, Pacheco, Brittain, and Galadillas.

3 A floral pyramid, standing 7 feet high; initials A. N.

4. A basket finely inlaid; initials A. M. C.

5. A ring with five brilliants; initials J. J. M.

6. A splendid bracelet with five diamonds; initial D.

7. A mother-of-pearl box for gloves; initials L. C.

We begin to learn that the talented prima donna retires for some time from the stage, but her temporary adieu has been so brilliant, that we have no doubt she will again be found in the public city, which has shown her such care, and we will add well-merited, testimonies of regard.

MOUTHWARD HO!

JOINT PURCHASE OF LAND.

The letter in the 'Standard' of July 27th, signed 'Subscriber,' is sufficient evidence of the fact that many at present residing in Buenos Ayres cannot if they know or could find others to join in buying a tract with the intent of dividing it immediately among them. What could be easily accomplished by six or eight united would be an impossibility to two; for they not only joined to purchase, but to work each other in the management of their establishments, they would, in a great measure, do away with the expense and would save many dollars often foolishly spent. The art is not in guiding or making the money—any fool can do that—but in knowing how to spend and how to avoid spending what you have gained.

I, as a want of union is guilty of many sins—among others, that of forcing many with two or three hundred thousand dollars in the bank, to remain tenants, thereby increasing the population to many comforts that no estanciero need be without. It seems to me that some one should have an interest in uniting or bringing into contact all those same capitalists. What say the land agents to this observation?

In the present time farmers should bear in mind that there is now an opening in Santa Fé for those who are not determined to live forever unknowing the whims of landlords, or spending their hard earnings in continued renovals; let the opportunity pass and it may fly beyond your reach for ever. As the tracts for sale, with few exceptions, are too extensive to meet the individual wants of the great majority, it would be advisable to buy jointly. To do this, intending purchasers require to be acquainted with each other's views, and, as all have not the privilege of being assisted by the editor of the 'Standard' in searching for persons anxious to purchase jointly—not because the editors would refuse any assistance in their power, but it would be unreasonable in, for instance, a non-subscriber to make such a request; and I am sure we say there are few in a position to buy land who are not subscribers, which between ourselves and the wall, is to say the least of it, a great shame—it becomes necessary that they should seek each other through the medium of advertisements, through the office of the land agents, or through mutual friends. In my opinion, the most efficient plan would be the following: a land agent will be waiting at one of the leagues, for sale, advertises that he can not sell it in fractions but will receive offers for any fraction of it with a view to finding a sufficient number to buy the tract; A. in answer to this advertisement, applies for two leagues, B. for one league, C. for half a league, and so on until the required number is complete. of which the agent informs the applicants; they then meet, buy the land conjointly, survey, or view at one time. In fact some Englishmen recently arrived were quite surprised, no less at the brilliant spectacle of the audience, than the superior rendering of this fine opera.

Heroic conduct of an Irishwoman

Four men frightened awfully out of their wits.

Moreno, July 30, 1864.

On last Wednesday 27th inst. four men, two British subjects and two Portenos, went to a sheep pasture of a neighbourhood to ask for a 'parting' they met with an Irishwoman, the only person in charge of the sheep on the land, she refused to shut the sheep for them in the absence of both her husband and the owner of the sheep—the men insisted (as she says) on shutting the sheep anyhow, whether she will or no. High words ensued between the men and the women, mixing English and Spanish, which the men say is a bad alteration she hears the word in Spanish which is so common in the mouths of gauchos of the moment she thought her home hurt, in the gate and out she rushes gun (empty as she says) in hand, threatening destruction to the men's lives if any other fellows were so influenced, that they ran for the alcalde, one of them leaving a boot behind (as they say) and hiding himself behind an old mancarron for shelter from the shots, thinking there might be some shooting going on; this poor man up to this day swears he is quite deaf for 1,000 he will gain shoud a moment before that woman.

YOURS, &c.

LAUDH.

Disgraceful Bigotry.

To the Editors of the 'Standard'

Gentlemen,

By inserting in your paper the following lines you will greatly oblige

A FORIGNER.

Mr. George Hagan, a Danish subject, after many years residence in the city of Corrientes, died there about the beginning of the present year. In consequence of the Circular of the British Government of 1857 and that of 1863 ordering that a space in each Cemetery be reserved for the interment of these foreigners who may die not professing the Roman Catholic faith, permission was solicited at the Police office for his burial in the Cemetery of the church of La Cruz; the necessary boleto was promptly given by the Police authorities and presented at the Cemetery by Don Casato de La Cruz but only refused to allow the body to be interred there, but also refused to allow the public hearse to be used for the conveyance, so that a common street cart was necessarily used for that purpose. The body was subsequently interred by order of the Curate behind the Cemetery in a public street. A few friends of the deceased wished to place a small wood fence, but in a public street it was not possible.

Progress of the war in America

The Etna brings two day's later news from America, but nothing has occurred that varies the positions of General Grant's army or at least no thing that can be relied on with any confidence. There was a rumour, indeed, that General Grant was abandoning his present position—as was stated in the papers at the time of crossing the James River and attacking Richmond from the south. But this report, though not altogether improbable in itself, was communicated in too vague a manner to entitle it to any great confidence at present. It is rather probable that the reinforcements that General Grant be compelled to try an attack from the south if all other means should fail, but the attempt will be attended with great danger both to his army and to the city of Washington. That city will be laid open to attack by such a movement and we may therefore doubt whether it will be made until another attack has been made on General Lee's position on the north side of Richmond.

The accounts from the Shenandoah Valley appear to agree in stating that the Federal General Hunter has gained a considerable success over the Confederates, under General Jones, in the neighborhood of Staunton, but they differ as to the extent of the success. The future movements of the two armies can alone show the extent and importance of the Federal victory in that district. The time has gone, however, when a mere victory can produce any decisive result.

From Kentucky the accounts fully confirm the rumours of the Confederate General Morgan's forces in that State. He appears to hold most of the principal towns, has broken up all the railroads and is in certain strength at Lexington, on the Ohio. The chief importance of these movements is in the effect which they have of endangering the communications of General Sherman with the Northern States.

We learn that the Confederates have got the command of the Mississipi between Vicksburg and Memphis by means of powerful batteries erected at Greenville, on the Mississipi bank of the river, and at Yazoo City, nearly opposite, on the Arkansas side. These batteries are said to have destroyed or captured four gunboats which had been sent to dislodge them, but up to the last accounts the Confederates still held the river, and had cut off all communication between the Federal forces on the upper part of the river and those on the lower. The Confederates had concentrated all their forces for a great battle in defence of Atlanta. Their position was at Marietta, in front of the river Chattahoochee, the principal river of that district. General Johnston's headquarters are at Marietta General Hood commanding the centre, General Hardee on the right, and General Polk the left. General Sherman was in the neighborhood of Ackworth, four or five miles distant from Johnston's headquarters.

Gold had been as high as 99 premium, but it had afterwards declined to 97½. The export of specie continues, the Etna bringing $1,223,836.

Determination of the Prussian Government

It will be seen by the accounts from Frankfort that the Prussian Government has refused all the proposals of the English Government for a Truce in Denmark for that period.

It is somewhat curious, however, while we are thus told what Prussia will do, we are left in a kind of what Austria will do. Yet this is quite as important, and we can only hope that this silence is a proof of a more reasonable temper on the part of Austria. That we shall know to-day, when the substance of the proceedings of the Conference must be made public.

Hampshire and Oxford Down

The correspondent in England of the French 'Journal Agriculture Pratique,' in a letter published after last season's show of Royal Agricultural, says with much enthusiastic opinion of these breeds. "They have peculiar less finceuss," he says, "Hampshire Down Downs, which will be always preferred by producers; but for the professional cultivator, who, above all other consideration, desires to obtain the profitable carcass, the Hampshire and Oxfordshire Downs are infinitely superior to the South Downs. It is true that a return is much more considerable in a given time and with a given nourishment. These sheep are more developed; they are also precocious, and they fat more easily and more rapid, and as regards symmetry of form, no breed is superior to them, while the intelligence with which these breeds have undergone during the last few years has been continuous and happy. The breeds, for the rest, begin to obtain a foothold in France. His Highness Prince Napoleon has been good enough to accept the recommendation which I have had the honor to make to him of some Oxford Downs. I have lately forwarded to him a lot of lambs which leave in every respect absolutely nothing to be desired, and which, notwithstanding their greatly superior development, and compared with South Downs, can sustain a comparison, with this latter breed in the matter of symmetry and even of firmness."

The Insubia Intelligence.

His Excellency, M. Elizalde, Minister of Foreign Affairs, gave his first diplomatic dinner, for the season, at his private palace last evening. There was a full attendance of the Corps Diplomatique.

It is rumored that a full dress levee will be given when the streets are less muddy, at the Provincial Government House.

Mr. Parker has been duly installed a member of the. Foreign Racing Society.

Yesterday there was a rumor about town that the Italian Consul had been shot in a duel at Palermo. We hope there is no truth in the story, but it was very current about two o'clock that the poor Consul was dead.

An affair of honor is talked of as likely to come off early next week between two military English gentlemen, owing to an unhappy misunderstanding arising out of the proposed foot race which we noticed in Sunday morning's paper.

On dit, that the lovely daughter of a wealthy camp merchant will shortly be led to the Hymeneal altar by a well-known foreign estanciero. It is surmised that the ceremony will not take place previous to shearing.

The "Pueblo" announces a Grand Fancy Ball which took place at the Austrian Consulate: Mme. Baltasi cini's guests numbered 200, and were attired as gods, goddesses, Persians, nymphs, shepherdesses, &c.

To-night is to come off an evening party at the residence of an English merchant, of the South end.

We are happy to say that Mr. Wheelwright is quite recovered, being no longer confined to his bed.

Two native capitalists are about to espouse two charming sisters, resident in the North end.

On Sunday evening the opera of Lucrezia was given instead of Ione, owing to Sr. Catestini's sudden illness. We are authorised to contradict the rumor of Mme. Briol's temporary ecliyse.

The American Sanitary Benefit will come off on Friday, the opera will be Maria. Several private families have generously ceded their boxes, for the night, to the Committee.

The soirees musicals of Mme. Gambaceres, with 20 bands and 5 pianos, promises to be a brilliant affair, under the direction of Maestro Salomone.

We have not heard who will give the next Lecture at the British Library; a longer attendance of ladies is desirable.

The bazaar for the British Hospital is still in embryo, but a valuable stock of needle-work and fancy articles is ready.

The Circulo Literario met on Sunday. We learn that the discussion of the rules was animated. President Miller did not attend. Mr. H. F. Varela made a fine speech.

The Plata Club will shortly give a grand ball.

The Foreign A. Racing Club offers a ladies prize for the next meeting. We hope the Committee will publish the names of the ladies who have so spiritedly contributed towards our national games.

Mr. Samuel R. Phibbs leaves by next packet for England. We trust before long to be able to report great practical benefits resulting from his visit to the River Plate.

The foot race reported in our last has been postponed, and will come off this week at Palermo.

Mr. Fair and the Central Railway.

Some six months ago it was currently rumoured that our worthy Consul in London had intrigued against the great Argentine Enterprise—the Cordoba railway. This was openly stated in "Nueton Argentina, and on the strength of it the "Porteno-Central" at Rosario very naturally demanded Mr. Fair's dismissal from our Consular service.

It affords us the greatest satisfaction to be now duly authorised to contradict the disparaging statement. Mr. John Fair no sooner learned the rumour in question than he wrote to Mr Sampton, Argentine consul-general (who had shown himself a friend to the Cordoba wright's enterprise), requiring him to state what he knew of him (Mr. Fair) in the matter. To this Mr. Sampton replied by a most honorable testimony that Mr. Fair not only was innocent of the intrigues laid to his charge, but had evinced in every possible way the decided interest for the successful issue of the great undertaking.

The above statement is based on undoubted authority, coming from a gentleman whose name is identified with the Central Argentine railway, and we hope our colleagues will have the justice to copy the same, in a spirit of good faith.

Grand Colonization Scheme.

We have seen the contract made by an Argentine capitalist with the Government of Cordoba, for the purchase of 100 square leagues (nearly 6 million acres) of public lands.

The price is left in blank, but we believe is 200$ per league. The purchaser contracts to bring out ten thousand emigrants in two thousand families suitable for farming occupations, at the minimum rate of 300 families per annum. The land is to be marked out in lots of four square leagues each. The emigrants shall be exempt from all military service, but permitted to form a corps fully equipped for their own defence. They shall be allowed to import implements, &c., duty free. They shall enjoy the fullest civil and religious liberty, but be subject to the native authorities.

Such is in brief the important scheme which has been studied by the Governor and Legislature, and we learn that the concessionaire is about to leave for Europe, to arrange for sending out the emigrants. He cannot do better than give Ireland the preference, in which country he will find thousands of industrious poor people only too anxious to accept his offer

MONTEVIDEO

Saturday's papers contain little news, and our correspondent has not written to us. The concert at Sali's on Thursday evening, for benefit of the orphans, was a splendid affair, and the amateur singers merited the most enthusiastic applause. The house was crowded, and the performance commenced with the National Hymn sung by Millies Reyes, Casella, Fernandez, Perosgnin, and Gereda and Messrs Provitale and Durand. The sisters Reyes played Rossini's Stabat Mater. Miss Estrazulas sang "Letter happy together." Miss Reyes played on the harp an air from Romero and Juliet, at the conclusion of which she was presented with a purse bearing a wreath, the gift of Sor Escardo. Miss Casella's cavatina was rewarded with several handsome jewels: Miss Reyes with a handsome bracelet from the English residents, for her singing at the last concert, for the British Hospital. Miss Estrazulas was presented home in triumph by the orchestra.

Letters from Colonia, 26th ult. state that a band of rebels was out in pieces near Rosario, and that the Lagoon's division. There was much discontent about fines for non payment of Contri Directa, which the Government would have remitted on having exempted all the campagnas, for the present year, from this tax. The chief of Police has been dismissed, the filibusters have returned to B. Ayres.

The Spanish fleet of three frigates, to reinforce Admiral Pinzon, is daily expected at Montevideo, on route for the Chincha Islands. President Aguirre and the Minister of War arrived in the capital from Moreno's head-quarters, on Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock. They report the army most enthusiastic Flores's scouts attempted to intercept them on their return, but were driven back by the Government troops, across the Santa Lucia.

Cattle-stealing has broken out in several departments. Juan Rustion steam-corvette "Variag" 24 guns, arrived from Cuba on route for the West coast.

There were a few transactions pending since Saturday, which had to be arranged to-day, the consequence was, the sales (for cash as they are called were heavier than usual to-day.

We treat our readers to a table of the price of ounces for the last four years, which will show how specie keeps steadily running up and paper down, notwithstanding all the projects, meetings, &c., which have taken place during that period.

Things were very dull on Change to-day. We don't suppose the entries made in bona fide commissions ten dols. each. The sales on time were of the most limited character, in fact there is nothing whatever doing on the Bills and with the exception of a few desultory remarks on Mr. Lanus's last letter and the Government project there is not a topic on 'Change.

Business is dull through town owing to the state of the streets; still in the places owning to the most on the move dull on 'Change because nobody open plates.

Mr. Cavenago got another Argentine capitalist to subscribe to the stock of the Central Railway this day—twenty shares. We cannot allow such an important fact to go unnoticed.

People are beginning to ask when will the next burning of the paper money take place. We suppose to day or to-morrow. If report be true there is a most serious burning of paper money in contemplation—many millions. We do not altogether agree with the propriety of this step, as it will make paper scarce without supplying us with either foreign coin or any other equivalent.

We perceive in the circulars received per last packet that the wool market in Havre is very firm. Prices for Montevideos wool and middle classes of B. Ayres have gone up, and these wools are much looked for.

Shaw Brothers of Montevideo have given a general power of attorney to Mr. James Matthew.
